Dear Friends:

A small group of us here at the University of Maine at Orono are interested in establishing a regional video art center here in the frozen waste, and we are therefore interested in finding a place and time where we could see representative examples of the current state of video art. Your University is perhaps best known in New England in this field. We would be willing to travel to a seminar within reasonable distance. Can you advise us on where such seminars might be held, or how we might go about requesting such a seminar, and from whom? Any advice you can give us in these matters would be extremely helpful. Thanks.

Yours,

Fritz Lyon
