

The Center for Contemporary Arts presents

VOCAL WINDOWS

Joan
La Barbara
Steina
Barbara
Karp
Lita
Albuquerque

*"La Barbara brings a magnetic stage presence to the state of high art."
—San Francisco Chronicle.*

"Lita Albuquerque creates surreal, intuitive landscapes, with a romantic, evocative sense of wonder and awe."—Artweek

"Barbara Karp elegantly creates in Berliner Träume the romantic atmosphere of railway stations and airports the way we remember them in old movies, effectively conveying the emotional terrain of the visitor/traveler."—Artweek.

Steina's imagery has a sensual quality, evoking the physicality of landscape, revealing the essence of natural phenomena.

*The remarkable vocalist/composer Joan La Barbara joins forces with noted video artist Steina, renowned opera, film and theater directors Barbara Karp; and Lita Albuquerque whose stunning output ranges from sculpture, painting and projections to performance; in an evening of collaborative works staged for CCA's entire space, with the audience following the performance in this multi-faceted journey. The evening will begin with Vocal Windows, an interactive voice/video piece in which La Barbara's live vocalizations continuously reshape Steina's video images, followed by the La Barbara, Karp, Albuquerque collaborations Berliner Träume and Winds of the Canyon. Berliner Träume is a reflection of La Barbara's memories, impressions and experiences of Berlin, combining aural associations with imagery, and history with memory and dream. Winds of the Canyon, inspired by the Corn Dance at Santo Domingo Pueblo is "a piece with strong visual impact and sensitive inner strength . . . capturing the spiritual significance of the Indian way. . ."—Variety.*

Friday, Saturday & Sunday
